

PLUS: FALL IN LOVE WITH FAIRY-TALE FINE JEWELLERY

GRAZIA

MIDDLE EAST
AN ITP CONSUMER PUBLICATION
9 SEPTEMBER - 15 SEPTEMBER 2015
VOLUME 11, ISSUE 471

IS NEELAM GILL THE REASON ZAYN DUMPED PERRIE?

LYLA LOVES H&M STUDIO

THE "IDO" ISSUE

CELEB WEDDING DRESS INSPO

ALICE TEMPERLEY'S BRIDE GUIDE

BE THE BEST-DRESSED GUEST

OUF'S NEW MOOD: DIPTYQUE COMES TO DUBAI

IT-GIRL APPROVED

BAGS WITH SWAG

IN THE WILD

HIGH STREET HITS

ISSN 1817-4280
00471
9 771817 428004
AED 10 SAR 12 BD 12 OMR 12 KWD 1

3

EMMA MAKES AN ECO STATEMENT

THE HARRY POTTER STAR RECENTLY DECIDED TO TURN THE RED CARPET GREEN FOR THE PRESS TOUR OF HER NEW FILM REGRESSION, with the help of her stylist Sarah Slutsky. The actress announced her collaboration with the Green Carpet Challenge, which aims to promote the eco efforts of different international designers that “are considering local craft and production, artisan skills, the environment, sustainability, and the longevity of fashion,” Sarah explained on her Instagram post, which Emma regrammed.

For this, the 25 year old, while on her press junket duties, only wore garments by designers who always have the environment in mind. Ralph Lauren, Cartier, and Paul Andrew were worn by Emma on the first day of her Regression duties – Ralph Lauren for its policy of never using fur, Cartier because of its sustainable practices, and Paul Andrew due to its ethical business principles. The rest of the press tour saw the star have seven outfit changes, wearing designers from most of the fashion capitals of the world who create eco attire – including Wes Gordon, Erdem London, Alexander White, Edun, Paul Andrew, Christopher Kane and Alexa Wagner.

And who best to top off Emma’s Green Carpet Challenge garments for the final day of Regression press duties than the Queen of eco-love herself, Stella McCartney. Emma opted for a pair of the designer’s espadrilles to go with a gingham Isa Arfen dress. Green and gorgeous – we hope more Hollywood heavyweights follow suit. **🌱

Emma’s stylist, Sarah Slutsky, Instagrammed all of Emma’s “green” attire before she hit the red carpet, including dresses by Isa Arfen, above, Christopher Kane, main, and Erdem London, left

Emma wore a Wes Gordon dress, Alexander White shoes, and Wwake jewellery, above, for her second day on the Regression press junket

