SHOE OF THE SEASON

The Square-toe Pump

Bally design director Pablo Coppola on bringing a modern angle to this retro shape

“There is such nostalgia surrounding this style – I always associate it with the spirit of Françoise Hardy in the 1970s. But angling the edges of a square toe gives a contemporary update. Let them be a statement in themselves, pairing them with an A-line skirt or cropped trousers. After all, this type of shoe is for someone who is not afraid to stand out.”

As told to Ross Aston. Models Romy de Grijff at Eille, Bo Jong at Next. Props Alun Davies at Factory. Thanks to Castile Gibson
